Bro. Bertram Withdraws and J. F. Scott Wins

Bulletin Teachers' Contest Closes With a Rush of Ballots—St. Louis College Boys Were Quietly Active—Mr. Scott's Friends Only a Few Behind and Highly Pleased With the Final Result.

Alex. Mackintosh, Royal..... 1531

When the final count of the popular teachers' contest was finished shortly after eleven o'clock this morning it was found that Brother Bertram, of the St. Louis College, was the most popular teacher, and on account of a letter received at this office at the commencement of the contest requesting that the teachers of that college be not included in the contestants a "Bulletin" man called on Brother Bertram to inform him of the results and ascertain what disposition he wished to make of the ticket to San Francisco and return.

Brother Bertram was found in a most amiable mood, and when informed of his good fortune a pleasant smile spread over his genial face and after a few moments of thought said, "I am most gratified that I have won the contest, not alone for myself, but for the college. I assure you it is a great surprise to me as I thought we were out of the contest entirely. I would be delighted to accept the generous offer made by the 'Bulletin' but my time is not my own and I must refuse to transfer my votes to a friend of mine and let him have the advantage of this trip. I can think of no one more deserving than Mr. J. F. Scott of Waimea, Kauai, who I understand is a close second, and it is with the greatest pleasure that I ask you to give to him the full number of votes that have been cast for me. I also desire to thank my friends who have worked for me and assure them of the pleasure it gives me to know that my efforts for their good have not been in vain. The 'Bulletin' also has my heartiest congratulations and well wishes for successfully carrying on this good work and their prosperity."

The "Bulletin" office was the scene of a great deal of excitement from the time the office opened early this morning until 10 o'clock when the ballot box closed. There was a stream of anxious people hurrying in, afraid that they were too late to give their favorite ones their last votes.

The round-trip ticket to the Australia can be had by Mr. J. F. Scott of Waimea, Kauai, upon application at this office.

Following is the standing of the contestants below the 1000 mark.

NATURALIZING OF ALIENS

With the organization of the Supreme Court of the Territory, the naturalization of aliens has begun with fair briskness.

Chief Justice Frear gave as a reason for not adjourning the June term before the last day, that petitions for naturalization were pending which ought to be acted upon. He appointed 3 o'clock this afternoon for hearing such petitions.

There are two forms of petition. One is for aliens who have not lived in the Hawaiian Islands for five years, but who may have given notice of intention in a State or another Territory of the Union long enough ago to be qualified for completing the process now. The other form is for aliens who have lived in the Hawaiian Islands for five years. These, through a liberal provision of the Act of Congress, have but to furnish proof of such residence, in addition to a declaration of having had good intent toward the United States Constitution for these years, and take the final oath in open court.

Late Fred. Oat's Estate.

J. Morton Oat has filed a petition to have himself appointed administrator of the estate of his late brother, Frederick Brown Oat, which is valued at $11,000. It consists of 60 shares of paid up stock of Oahu Sugar Co. of a par value of $5000, life insurance of $5000, and personal effects valued at $300. The heirs are Lewis A. Oat of Norwich, Conn., Joseph Morton Oat of Honolulu and John M. Oat of San Francisco, brothers.

"Why," replied the woman, "you are certainly able to earn a living. You don't look very old."

"Looks are often deceitful, lady," answered the wanderer. "I'm old enough to be your grandfather."

A moment later he was seated in the kitchen, and nothing else had in the pantry was too good for him.—Chicago News.

AMERICAN SUGAR WATER

W. Lindgren, the expert geologist who has been on Molokai for the past three months prospecting for water for the American Sugar Co., has returned to the city and will very soon turn in his report. It is understood that this will be favorable. Mr. Lindgren having found that there is sufficient water in the mountains to supply the needs of the plantation and that this can be easily brought down by proper engineering.

Among the departures for Vancouver and Victoria in the Mowara yesterday afternoon were the following: Mrs. C. A. McKechnie, F. W. Carter, Capt. F. D. Walker, Rev. and Mrs. Alex. Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Robinson, Miss Mackintosh and the Misses J. and E. Gay.

Fred Waldron, accompanied by his wife, left for Vancouver yesterday afternoon on business in connection with T. H. Davies & Co. He will go to San Francisco and Chicago and may proceed farther east. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron will be gone about three months.

S. C. Allen for 'Frisco.

The bark S. C. Allen, Johnson master, sails for San Francisco with a full cargo of sugar tomorrow morning. She will also carry the following passengers: Miss Krueger, Miss Panabaker, Mrs. Horace Lyle and child, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hammer, Mrs. Kessen, Ben Clark, Clifford White, Harry White, Wm. King, Palua Hatfield. China herself was making every effort to

SUPREME COURT ORGANIZED

The Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii was organized and began business this morning. Members of the bar were given but a few minutes' notice of the important event. The justices themselves did not know much sooner that their qualifications today was practicable.

It was stated in the morning papers that the Justices of the Supreme Court and the Judges of the Circuit Court had not received their commissions from President McKinley. This was true enough. Yet, reposing in Governor Dole's second class mail matter were the commissions. They were enclosed in pasteboard tubes, addressed to the respective appointees, "care of Hon. Sanford B. Dole, Governor of Hawaii." This address was made because the Washington authorities did not know where, in the Islands, each addressee lived.

Chief Justice Walter F. Frear, First Associate Justice Clinton A. Galbraith and Second Associate Justice Antonio Perry entered the courtroom about 10:30 o'clock. Albert McGurn, the court clerk, made the usual proclamation, "Hear ye, etc.," commanding all persons having any business with the court to draw near.

Chief Justice Frear announced that his associates and himself had received their commissions from the President of the United States and had qualified by taking the oath of office, and that the court was now ready for business.

There were present these members of the bar: Attorney General Edmund P. Dole, W. A. Whiting, Paul Neumann, W. O. Smith, Cecil Brown, John L. Kaulukou, L. A. Thurston, A. S. Humphreys, A. G. M. Robertson, J. M. Monsarrat, Charles Creighton, S. M. Bailou, W. A. Henshall, J. T. De Bolt, Lorrin Andrews, Lyle A. Dickey, E. M. Long, B. L. Marx, H. A. Bigelow, S. P. Chillingworth, T. McEnta Stewart, A. Lewis and Assistant Attorney General Lynd M. Robbins. Eight or ten of this list have been distinguished members of the three branches of former governments of Hawaii—the executive, the legislative and the judiciary—some in all three and others in two while three of the gentlemen have held diplomatic positions abroad.

Mr. Neumann referred to the death of Chief Justice Judd and asked that the court appoint Saturday morning as the time for receiving a memorial resolution of the bar thereon.

The Chief Justice stated that Justice Perry being under a doctor's orders could not sit to hear cases, and was going to San Francisco by next steamer. He suggested that the calendar might be called, so that cases might be allotted for hearing in vacation.

Different attorneys discussed the question of holding a special term, and finally it was agreed by the court that the pure term should adjourn on Monday, which is its last legal day, and a special term called for Tuesday. The Chief Justice intimated that the court would be easy with the attorneys at the start, in consideration of the uncertainty that had existed regarding when the court would be constituted.

Other matters brought up at this opening session are referred to elsewhere.

At the Orpheum.

A grand celebration of the Fourth of July was given at the Orpheum last night in the fine rendition of Sousa's famous opera "El Capitan" by the Southwell Company. The house was crowded to the doors and all were in good humor and enjoyed every number of the program. When the curtain went up on the first act it was portrayed to the audience that the actors and actresses were in the best of condition and every musical number was received with encore after encore. Wolff was just at his best and did everything in his power to keep things up to their usual good standard. Miss Tillie Sallinger sang at the end of the third act, the finale of the piece. "The Star Spangled Banner" and all the company and the audience standing joined in on the chorus. It was a hit and just the proper thing for the Fourth. The company will appear only three nights more and a Saturday matinee, when this same popular program will be rendered.

For Vancouver and Victoria, per C. A. S. S. Mowara, July 1.—Miss Fleming, Mrs. C. A. McKechnie, Miss McKinnon, F. W. Carter, G. Meuchard, Miss Davis, Miss Cleveland, Mrs. McClellan, Capt. F. D. Walker, Leong Pak Hing, Kim Chim You, A. J. Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. Goulard and infant, Mrs. M. P. Black, Rev. and Mrs. Alex. Mackintosh, Miss von Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Robinson, Mrs. H. S. Robinson, Miss J. S. Gay, Mrs. E. Gay, the four Robinson children and four servants, Miss Florence Carter, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Waldron and Miss Bicknell, C. H. B. Fowler.

A complete new stock of gentlemen's shirts, collars and cuffs at L. B. Kerr's, Queen street.

CIRCUIT JUDGE HUMPHREYS

In the Supreme Court this morning Chief Justice Frear stated that Abram S. Humphreys had received his commission as First Judge of the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, and that it was in order to have that gentleman sworn into office.

Mr. Humphreys advanced, presented his commission from President McKinley to the Chief Justice and asked that he might be permitted to take his oath in open court. The Chief Justice glanced at the document and then administered the oath from a paper to Judge Humphreys, who signed the document and upon its being certified by the Chief Justice, the ceremony was complete.

Judge Humphreys was soon later regarding the second judgeship. R. D. Silliman, appointed to the position, wrote to him from the Coast that he expected to return to Honolulu about the first of August. In the meantime, the Act of Congress enabled Judge Stanley to hold over until his successor was qualified.

Judge Stanley says he is willing to hold over if his services are necessary, but not into the next term of the court. He would have to look after his own practice.

That McCook Says of Queen's Land Claim

The Call of June 24th says General Edward M. McCook, a member of the famous "fighting McCook" family, who is now a guest of Charles H. Blinn at 1585 Post street, is of the opinion that as soon as the coming election is over and President McKinley is settled for another term of four years the administration will take up the crown land claims of Lillooekalani, the ex-Queen of Hawaii, and settle with her for a handsome sum. As General McCook is known to be a warm personal friend of Senator Mark Hanna and close to the administration, the friends of the ex-Queen are much comforted by the assurances he has given.

The interest taken by General McCook in the affairs of Hawaii's ex-Queen are due to the fact that he was the first Minister accredited by the Government of the United States to the Hawaiian court, in 1886, and during his term negotiated the first treaty of commercial reciprocity. During his residence in Honolulu his firm attitude toward the threatened British encroachment on Hawaii undoubtedly saved this Government from very unpleasant diplomatic complications with England.

General McCook entered the Federal army in 1890 as a private in the Kansas Legion, and after a brilliant career of five years, rose to the rank of brigadier general. He was twice appointed by President Grant as Governor of the then Territory of Colorado and there organized a school system and an immigration board that was instrumental in development. Through his personal efforts the first railroad was built into Denver. He was the first advocate of woman suffrage. After his second term as Governor of Colorado General McCook declined the portfolio of Postmaster General, tendered him by President Grant.

A Bachelor's Romance.

Martha Morton's comedy, "A Bachelor's Romance" which stood Sol Smith Russell so well in hand for two seasons, will be presented in this city by the Neill Company this evening. The hearty reception accorded this comedy and this company everywhere leaves little doubt as to the success of the coming performance here. The production is a commendable one in every respect, and the deft touches and little essentials that are carefully attended to in all productions made by the Neill Company are said to be particularly noticeable in its presentation of this famous success. While the play is a comedy, the touching scenes of the third act particularly, are usually appreciated to an extent that moves an audience to tears. The production here will be a treat to the higher class of dramatic compositions, were all especially designed for the Neill Company. Mr. James Neill will be seen in the part of David Holmes, and is the only American actor who has ever been given the privilege by the author of portraying this character aside from Sol Smith Russell.

CORNER STONE LAID.

The corner stone of the new Hall block was laid this morning without any ceremonies whatever. In the stone were placed Hawaiian coins and stamps, one each of the English and Hawaiian newspapers, including the Bulletin of the Fourth of July, Thurston's Annual, a history of the revolution, report of the Hawaiian Board for last year in the Hawaiian language and a history of the business of E. O. Hall & Son since 1859 when the house was first founded.

HAWAII'S CONVENTION GREETING

The dramatic moment of the first day of the convention and it was certainly a tedious and dull one, came when Senator Lodge made his speech as permanent chairman, says the Philadelphia Press.

He turned to face the right side of the hall and said: "We have with us the representatives from Hawaii."

This clause was only part of a sentence, but the scholarly New Englander got no further than the last word for several moments.

It dawned on the delegation that a new banner was being lifted in their midst. It was bright yellow and bore in great black letters the foreign word "Hawaii."

Beneath it sat the men who had just arrived in this city to be present at their first American political convention.

Some one raised a cheer of welcome to the stranger within our gates, and suddenly the dramatic force of the situation went around through 20,000 minds as if he an electric circuit.

This was the first substantial evidence of the fact that the Stars and Stripes float over the Pearl of the Pacific; that this is the first time in the history of the United States when any one outside of this country has sat as a delegate under that flag; that these men had traveled from Honolulu to help nominate William McKinley for President of the United States.

Every one stood up, the better to see, and then the unanimous rising of the audience made itself a tribute and a welcome, and men gave a three-times-three with all the emotion they were holding in readiness to expend on something.

The great athletic Hawaiian who sat under the banner jumped to his feet and bowed his greetings right and left. He is "Sam" Parker, once Prime Minister to Queen Liliuokalani and her chief advisor. He is a magnificent specimen of flesh and blood and one of the brightest men that we have in our new possessions.

The smile had hardly died down on his face when it was called up again by the call of the clerk for Hawaii to respond to the call for the names of her vice president and national committeemen. The great sonorous voice of the ex-Prime Minister nearly rivaled the reading clerk's, and when he announced his own name as an officer the audience gave him a right royal ovation.

It was the dramatic incident of the day. The spectators had become a bit tired of a text they could only guess at, and cheering every sentence that sounded like "The Stars and Stripes," but here was something they could spend their emotions upon and they made the most of it.

It had nothing to do with politics; it was unpremeditated and American.

It was the voiced greeting to the new condition.

AN AUTOSWIPER.

P. Corcoran, one of the fire ladders, appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of common nuisance by breaking the controller of L. S. Grant's automobile last night. Defendant pleaded not guilty but, after the testimony of Officers Moau and Jones and Mr. Grant, there seemed no doubt as to his guilt and he was fined $25 and costs, Judge Wilcox warning Corcoran to leave alone the property of others in the future. The story is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Grant went to the Orpheum last night in their automobile. Mr. Grant left the vehicle outside the Progress block on Beretania street, turned off the current and locked up the box.

Corcoran, tired of hanging about the engine house, went over to where the automobile was standing, got in and began vigorous action on the controller. The vehicle refused to go, so Corcoran got off, pushed it to Nuuanu street, got in again and began ringing the bell.

Police officers were soon on the scene. Moau arrested the man and started off with him when Corcoran made a break for liberty. The officer followed him to the engine house where he found him hidden under one of the engines. The other fire ladders refused to tell where he was and Corcoran himself threatened to hurt the officer if he did not get out.

Mr. Cooke's Vacation.

Charles M. Cooke goes to Kauai today and returning will leave for his Oakland home in the steamer Australia. He will accompany his children on a vacation tour east by way of the Yellowstone park. Mr. Cooke will be away from Honolulu three months. In his absence P. C. Jones will preside over the Bank of Hawaii, Geo. H. Robertson over C. Brewer & Co. and F. A. Schaefer over the Hawaiian Planters' Association, as vice presidents respectively of these organizations. Mr. Cooke being president of all three.

Assault and Battery.

Kua, a native drayman, was fined $5 and costs in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of assault and battery on a Japanese driver. It seems that Kua ran into the wagon of the Japanese and took a wheel off. The latter was afraid the native would get away so he grasped the reins of his horse. The native shouted to him to let go but the Japanese remained at his post. Then the clash of Kua's whip encircled the arms of the Japanese and the arrest followed.

Statement Discredited.

Shanghai, June 27.—A German paper has a discredited statement to the effect that Admiral Seymour is eight miles from Tsin Tsin with sixty-two killed and 299 wounded.

Great sale of boots and shoes at 5 cents on the dollar at L. B. Kerr & Co.'s shoe house, corner of Fort and Market streets.

TO LAHAINA AND RETURN.

An attempt is being made today to arrange a three-cornered race between the first class yachts La Paloma, Bonnie Dundee and Eva to Lahaina and return. The proposition is to leave here Thursday evening. Upon arrival at Lahaina the time will be taken and the yachts will remain there until Sunday morning before returning. Upon arrival back in Honolulu, the time will again be taken and the winner decided on.

The Helene has not done anything for a long time and the yachtsmen would like to see her get in and show her colors. She is a fine boat and would make the race much more interesting. A four-cornered race to Lahaina is desired but so far, the Helene is a doubtful quantity.

Former Garrison Commander.

Col. S. M. Mills, lately in command of the 6th Artillery at this post, writes to R. W. Shingle that he and Mrs. Mills would embark in the transport Grant on July 1. As the transport is bound to Nagasaki with troops, that may have to be hurried to the scene of trouble in China, she is hardly expected to call at Honolulu. Col. Mills states that he has applied for duty in China.

Another Mission Burned.

London, June 27.—A dispatch from Tsin Tan dated yesterday says that the Protestant mission at Weihsien was burned down by rebels Monday night last.
